GRAND COMMANDER MAURY'S SPEECH.

In his response to the speech of welcome extended the Grand Camp Confederate Veterats by the Mayor of Petersburg on Wednesday Grand Commander R. L. Meury said:

"It is surely good for us all to be here. This assemblage is an object basen fruitful of histruction to every benelder which cannot but impress the minds of all, or fail to remove many an roneous belief, and correct many selse teaching. You do well to invite us to your miest, and to do us honor children.

The results of the war were such as to seem to many to discredit the wisheen the effort, exalted the patriotism, glorious the struggle and imperishable our reputation as warriors, no other fruits were manifest. To many, death In all its stages and destruction, poverty and ruin, seemed to have been Virginia's only portion, the only tangible results. Material loss, and the long and terrible conflict material bardship and privation which followed, perverted and warped the judgment of many whose whole at-tention was given to the channels of work, rather than of thought, leaving no time from daily struggle for daily bread for the consideration of matters past and gone. Mid such surroundings in these years a generation has matured, accustomed to attribute all their many trials and much of the suffering and destitution which appeared on every hand, to the less of the war, without perceiving my bear first stated thereby, who not monaturally have inclined to condemn o censure their fathers for resorting to arms as unwise, foolish and unprofitable, that our foes were as good soldiers as we, feeling and often declaring sat-faction that they failed.

The charges thus made in the house of our friends, have served as strongest argument to sus aid the victors' frequent calm that we were turbulent in-argents unable to decide for ourselves what was best for ourselves, in sensement paternally protecting us from our

Mr. John E. Tackett desiring to retire from the retail business offers the whole stock of fine Dry Goods contained in the store, 431-433 King street, at and below cost for CASH.

The long established treputation of this arm for buying and handling only first class merchandise makes this a rare opportunity to obtain high class merchandise at very much under value.

The entire stock will be sold, and, as it is desired to make this sale as speedily as possible, the prices are made correspondingly attractive As the sale is an absolute retiring from business, the terms are made positively CASH. Mr Tackett desires to than't the many loyal friends the house has had n the twenty years of its business existence in Alexandria for their patr nage and promptness in their general relations with him, and to as a continuance of that in confidence the settlement of all accounts due to September 1, and feeling assured that no words of apology are needed for clos-
